County Lake To Get Facelift

Commissioner John McMillan of the Alabama Conservation Department was in Elba recently to join with Senator Wallace Miller and Representative Jimmy Holley in announcing a major addition to the facilities at the Coffee County Lake, just outside the Elba city limits. He acknowledged the active interest and full cooperation of the Elba Chamber of Commerce in this project.

The $150,000 project will include 24 campsites, four pavilions of various sizes, two toddler play pens, two public bath houses and extensive landscape improvement. Approximately 50 additional picnic tables and grills will be included in the project.

At least one of the new pavilions will be located on the opposite side of the lake with access to it over a new access road, probably across a widening of the existing dam.

Upon completion of the project, the area will be ideal for such mammoth affairs as the annual Jaycee Bluegrass festival, according to Representative Holley, who acknowledged that he and Miller had done a lot of horse trading to get the project funded and approved.

Manager of the lake, Forrest Dean, presented records to this newspaper

Manager of the lake, Forrest Dean, presented records to this newspaper indicating that from January through the first of May there were 3403 people plus many children who had fished at the facility, catching over a ton of bream and many pounds of bass, crappie and catfish. He said that on Easter Sunday there were 20 fishermen and over 350 picnickers at the 86-acre lake.

Council Discusses Recreation Needs

The Elba City Council met Monday night with all present except Councilman Charles Kennett who was absent due to a death in his family.

A routine report by Police Chief Dick Reeves led to a lively discussion on recreational needs of the city. Reeves reported he had been receiving complaints of beer drinking, loud profanity and pot-smoking by teenagers in both the Big Bear parking lot and Northwood Plaza. He noted that only a small percentage of the area teenagers was guilty of this law-breaking, and felt the entire group shouldn't be punished.

American Legion building again was discussed. The council agreed to offer a compromise to the Legion of $500 a year, on a year-to-year basis. The councilmen agreed with Mayor English that even though they could legally hold the Legion to the $100 a year for the next ten years, both the city and the Legion were dedicated to serving the people and not getting hung up on legalities. Councilman Cleo Hawkins noted it wasn't a matter of "them-against-us" because he and several other members of the council belonged to the Legion also.

surrounding towns, and all seating has been removed. The council agreed for Mayor English to find out what has happened to the bleachers which were there last year, and to get seating up there as soon as possible.

Elba Man Arrested For Attempted Murder

Goob H. Allen, age 53, is in the Coffee County Jail at press time charged with attempted murder of his brother, Clifton Allen, according to information from the local sheriff's office.

White quoted J.L. Johnson as saying he heard the first two shots, looked up and heard Goob Allen threaten to kill his brother if he took another step. Apparently about this time he fired the shotgun again, striking the ground between the two brothers, and again shots bounced up and struck Clifton Allen, this time some hitting his face.

Deputy John White explained Tuesday evening that the story he was told was that Clifton Allen was enroute to plow the garden, drove over an area commonly used for this purpose that apparently crossed a corner of Good Allen's one-acre lot, and on which he had placed some sort of blockade to prevent the use of the dirt roadway.

When Deputy White and other law enforcement officers arrived, Clifton Allen was at his home preparing to go to the hospital on private vehicle and Gool Allen was at his home grilling a steak. His wife had possession of the shotgun by that time. He offered no resistance and was taken to the county jail, where he remains at press time.

Brunson To Seek Office

Marion Brunson of Elba announced in a press conference Tuesday that he would be a candidate for probate judge in the Democratic primary September 7, 1999.

Brunson explained his family had been in Coffee County since 1853, he has lived and worked in both Elba and Enterprise, and is the only man to be named Man of the Year by both Elba and Enterprise.

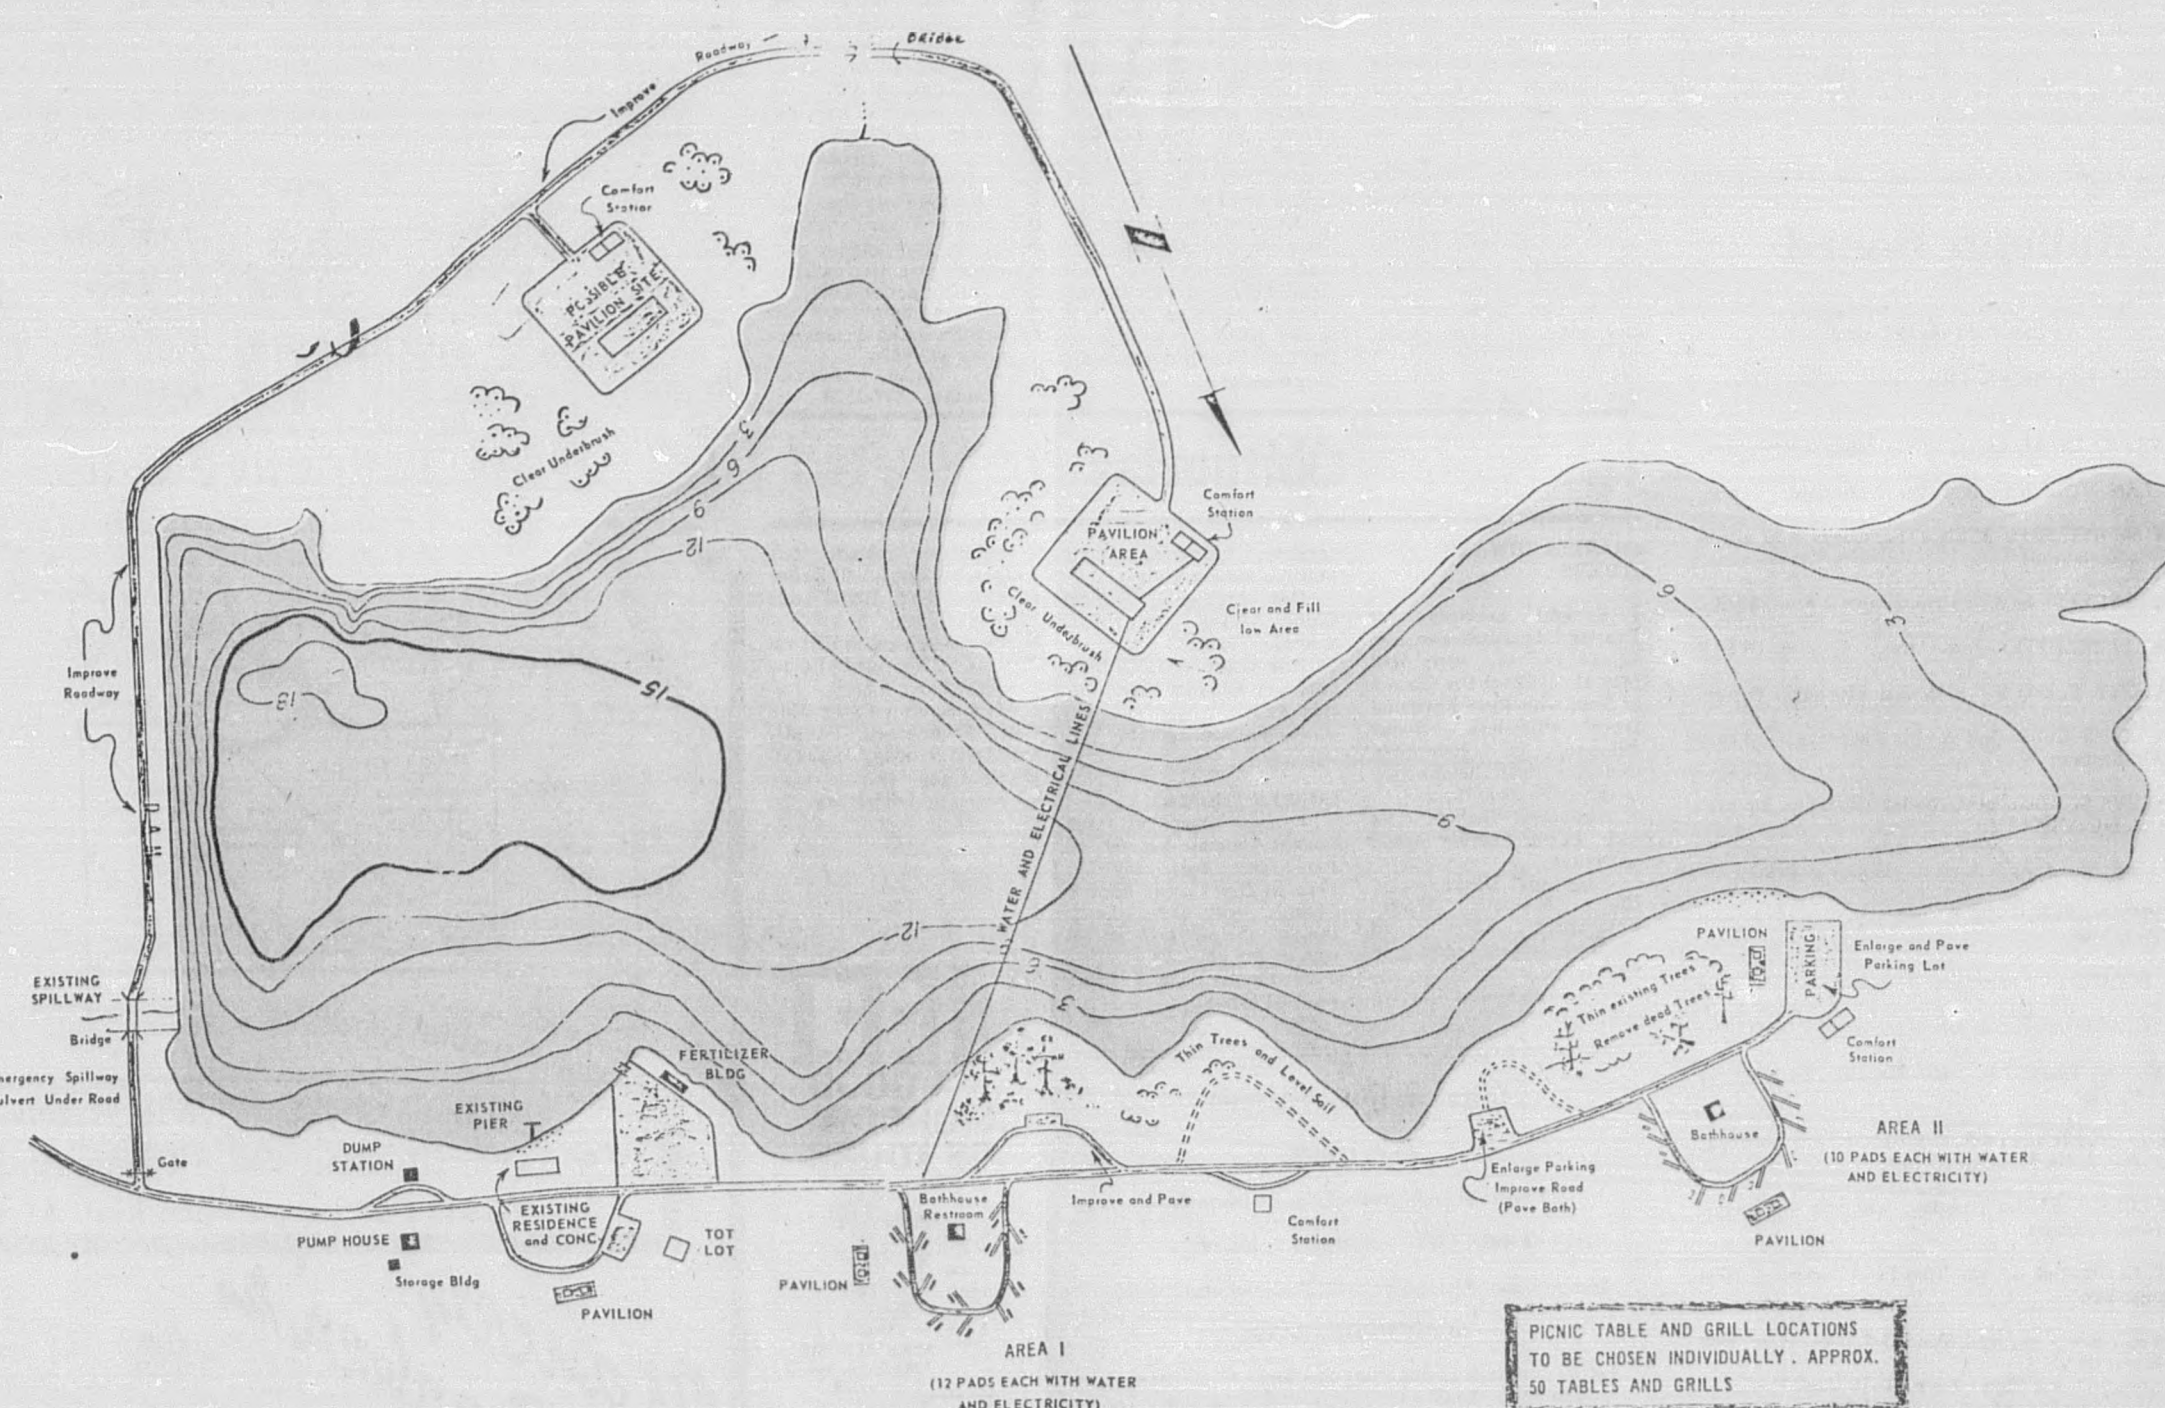

Brunson, principal of Elba Elementary School, said he would qualify the first day of qualifying, would work hard to win and when elected he would work hard and the people would be proud they voted for him.

Brunson said he didn't have all the answers but would work toward bringing the political factions together. He said the courthouse was an emotional issue with many people, but not with

Brunson anticipated many questions he might be asked and gave the answers as he made his announcements. He pointed out that not all the people of Coffee County considered the courthouse the most important issue facing the people. He listed inability to keep a county engineer, miles of unpaved him. He said he would abide by the wishes of the people on the matter and didn't feel it was the responsibility of Coffee County politics are heating up now. The many rumors floating around have proven to be at least partially true, as Marion Brunson made it official Tuesday that he will be a candidate for probate judge this year to replace retiring Judge James L. Sawyer. Voting time is not until September 7, 1982, and it will be a long hot summer for the politicians -- and we wish them all the best of luck.

The Elba Chamber of Commerce is going full blast with its Industry Appreciation Day this Saturday. The public is invited to come downtown, view the displays, listen to the high school bands, the gospel groups and the Bluegrass music. The Chamber idea behind the special day is all the talk about new and/or expanded industry is no good if you don't show your real appreciation for existing industry.

Emory Folmar will be the Republican candidate for governor of Alabama in the November general elections. . . that is conceded. However, the question of just who will win the election in November ain't conceded by many, and not by ye ol' editor. The only way we see the Montgomery mayor winning the election is for the Democratic winner to come out of the primary with so many scars (and/or open wounds) that he can't put together enough friends to manifest a majority. For Folmar to become a household word in populous North Alabama is going to take a lot of advertising. While we know the name here, he is almost unknown from Birmingham north. That was our findings in February. While some people would say, "Isn't he a mayor of some town in South Alabama?", others asked, "Who is he?". We might point out that all the folks we asked about this were news media people that would normally get more exposure to politicians than the average citizen.

The warmer weather that has finally gotten here sure makes those of us who enjoy dream fishing with fly rods a bit itchy to flex our arm and drop a popping bug up against that little stump where the big one is awaiting an unsuspecting insect.

We take exception to statements made at the city council meeting Monday night about teenagers having nothing to do. Our experience has been that our teenagers have to make a choice of what to do, and then they sometimes express a desire to stop doing so much and just stay home and rest. This is not just at our house, as we have had other parents relate the same experiences. We do concede that the teenage years are filled with unknowns and uncertainties that leave these youngsters restless. However, it is not unique to Elba, Coffee County, Alabama, nor the United States. We have heard the same expressions of nothing to do in the largest cities of the world (with hundreds of opportunities) and in many languages. Our bottom line is - show concern for the teenage needs - but let's not overreact.

Some Elba folks have returned from visits to the World's Fair in Knoxville, Tennessee, with reports of having a good time. The national press news has been pretty negative about prices, etc., but our Elba folks report having a good time, no traffic problems, and prices not much higher than normal.

The long-awaited recreational park on Smith Avenue is still moving forward. A quick check with City Hall this week revealed the following: Mayor Bob English noted that all the red tape was complete for the federal grant, money has been received for the matching part on the land purchase, and June 1 is the schedule for moving dirt and beginning the ball parks.

Former Attorney General Bill Baxley has formally announced his candidacy for Lt. Governor, and stressed that all those who are rumored to be his opponents are friends, and he wants to keep it that way. We commend this attitude, and suspect it is foremost in his mind because of the bitter taste left in the mouths of many voters after his aggressive campaign for governor four years ago. Many "experts" attribute his loss in the runoff to Fob James to the many unkind words of the first primary against contenders Albert Brewer and Sid McDonald.

Representative Jimmy Holley was put on the carpet by ye ol' editor about the rights of legislators to ignore the laws of Alabama, and more particularly to drive down the wrong side of the interstate and claim legislative immunity when charged by troopers. Holley was quick to come back and assure us he didn't like it either. He promised to either co-sponsor or introduce legislation to change that ill-founded law. We rested our case with that promise.

Atlantic American Moves Forward With Purchase

An active effort to acquire controlling interest in Elba-based National Security Insurance Company moved forward this week with the mailing of details of the plan to all stockholders and the placing of a large display ad in this newspaper.

Atlantic American Corporation, an Atlanta-based insurance holding company, commenced this week with a previously-announced plan to acquire 415,000 shares of common stock of National Security. Terms of the offer call for Atlantic American to pay $12.50 in cash and $12.50 in 12 percent debentures due in 1990 for each share of common stock. National Security Insurance was quoted in the over-the-counter stock market on Tuesday at 19 1/2 (the price for selling) and 19 1/4 (asked or cost to buy). This is several dollars higher than the stock was priced before the offer was made public.

National Security stockholders received a letter this week from company president Jack Brunson acknowledging the offer and urging stockholders to wait before tendering their stock holdings to the Atlanta firm. Brunson wrote, "On or before May 27, 1982, the Board of Directors will advise you whether it recommends acceptance or rejection of this tender offer or expresses no opinion and remains neutral toward this tender offer or is unable to take a position with respect to this tender offer." The letter promised to accompany any recommendation with reasons the Board has taken the position they take.

Atlantic American has set a June 17, 1982, deadline for their offer and also reserved the right to withdraw the offer before June 8. The offer also includes the usual limits in relationship to number of shares offered and the number desired by the company.

Atlantic American has supplied copies of the material relating to the offer to all stockholders and extends the offer to anyone interested who will write the company at 4370 Peachtree Road NE, Atlanta, Georgia 30319, or by telephoning toll-free 1-800-241-1439 (outside Georgia).

May 22 Is Industry Appreciation Day

The Elba Jaycees and the Elba Chamber of Commerce have joined forces in planning an Industry Appreciation Day for Saturday, May 22. The inside of Courthouse Square will be blocked off and several area high school bands will play at intervals throughout the day. Local gospel singing groups will also be on hand to entertain. The Bluegrass band "Buck Springs" will entertain during the afternoon. They will be present at the June 11-12 Jaycees Bluegrass Festival. Area industries will have displays on the square to better inform the people of the area of their services and products. Local merchants are expected to participate with sidewalk displays or sales.

Posters by elementary school children on "What Elba Industry Means

To Me" will be displayed, and winners of the poster contest will be recognized. Schedule of events is planned as follows:

Rabid Coon Found In County

The Coffee County Health Department announced this week that a confirmed case of rabies had been discovered in the county and that one person had possibly been exposed to the disease.

The disease was diagnosed in a raccoon killed on Sunday, May 16, at Lake Ridgeway, a private fishing lake located on Highway 84 East between Elba and New Brockton.

County Environmentalist Richard Brown issued a warning to all county residents, especially those in the Lake Ridgeway area, to be on the lookout for any strange-acting domestic animal (cat or dog) or wild animal out of its natural habitat. He added that if a domestic pet has not been treated with a rabies vaccine within the last year, it should be vaccinated as soon as possible.

Health Dept. Issues Regulations

The Alabama Department of Public Health has adopted new regulations governing on-site sewage disposal. These regulations will govern the installation of conventional septic tank systems and aerobic alternate systems within the state.

There are some important changes in the regulations, most notably the requirement of soil tests. These tests include a percolation test and soil boring. The percolation test will determine the ability of the soil to absorb effluent from the disposal field. Absorption rates from this test will determine the total amount of disposal field needed to ensure proper function of the disposal system.

The soil boring will ensure that the effluent from the disposal field will not infiltrate ground water. If ground water is within five feet of the ground surface, a conventional disposal field cannot be used.

These soil tests must be performed by an engineer, a surveyor, or a soil classifier registered in the State of Alabama. Soil test results will be submitted to the local health department for processing.

Sophomores Romp Over Juniors & Seniors

The Senior Student Council sponsored a game elimination basketball tournament Thursday, April 22. The four teams that participated were the faculty, coached by Mr. Powell; the seniors, coached by myself (Phillip Brown); the Juniors, coached by Ervin Gunnells; and the sophomores, coached by Calvin Carpenter.

The tournament got off to a good start as the seniors beat the faculty. The second game showed the sophomores coming on strong as they blasted the juniors by a good margin. But instead of stopping there, as I hoped, they went on to sneak by the seniors for a sensational victory.

I talked to their coach after the game was over, and I had to admit that his seniors really played team ball. I just can't help thinking what Elba's basketball team will be like when they get on the varsity.

Seventh & Eighth Graders Tour Career Development Center

The seventh and eighth graders of Elba Jr. High School visited the Career Development Center on the campus of Enterprise Jr. College on Friday, May 14, and Saturday, May 15.

The visit included a welcome and orientation, and three 45-minute sessions on values clarification, film and discussion on career decision making, and a tour of the career development center where each student was given a computer printout on two careers of his or her choice. Question and answer sessions followed each session.

Niki Pilcher was chosen Little Miss Zion Chapel with second runner-up was Misty Flowers. Niki was crowned by elementary principal, Denby Lowery.

The judges for this event were Dr. Roger Crampton, Mrs. Sarah Fine, and Mrs. Kathy Lavender from the Enterprise State Junior College. Mike Lindsey provided background music for the evening and also played the accompaniment for the entertainment provided by several elementary school children. Emcees for the evening were Hayes White and Bill Bailey from WRES in Troy.

Both Lauri and Niki will compete in the National Peanut Festival held in Dothan each October. To compete in the Little Miss Peanut contest must be in the second grade. To compete in the Miss Peanut contest a girl has to be from 17 to 21 years of age and must compete in evening gowns, swimsuits, and sports clothes. Lauri Doster - Niki Pilcher

Miss and Little Miss ZC Chosen

Miss Lauri Doster was chosen last week to represent Zion Chapel at the National Peanut Festival. The new Miss Zion Chapel was crowned by high school principal Douglas Green. Chosen as first runner-up was Donna Foley, as second runner-up was Allison Maddox, as third runner-up was Denise Lott, and as fourth runner-up was Tineja Jackson. The contest was held at the Elba Courthouse, where each student was given a computer printout on two careers of his or her choice. Question and answer sessions followed each session.

Niki Pilcher was chosen Little Miss Zion Chapel with second runner-up was Misty Flowers. Niki was crowned by elementary principal, Denby Lowery.

The judges for this event were Dr. Roger Crampton, Mrs. Sarah Fine, and Mrs. Kathy Lavender from the Enterprise State Junior College. Mike Lindsey provided background music for the evening and also played the accompaniment for the entertainment provided by several elementary school children. Emcees for the evening were Hayes White and Bill Bailey from WRES in Troy.

Both Lauri and Niki will compete in the National Peanut Festival held in Dothan each October. To compete in the Little Miss Peanut contest must be in the second grade. To compete in the Miss Peanut contest a girl has to be from 17 to 21 years of age and must compete in evening gowns, swimsuits, and sports clothes. They will be interviewed by the Rebel News staff, she asked Mrs. Elizabeth Dyess. When she was interviewed by the Rebel News staff, she asked Mrs. Elizabeth Dyess.

Class Prophecy

We asked the Class of 1982 to predict for us what they would be doing in ten years and here is what they told us.

Tim Williams-Ten years from now I see myself looking back at all the good times that I had at ZCHS.

Kim Ellis-I will be a multi-millionaire who needs no one's permission to do anything.

Judy Helms-I will be Jeff Senn's assistant making millions from our health spa in Mobile. We will also be traveling on numerous cruises.

Vanessa Kelley-I will be a computer specialist.

Jeff Laster-I will still be single and having a good time in the years to come.

Cindy Baker-As I look into my future, I see myself sitting behind the desk of the executive secretary of the president of the largest corporation in the state.

Peggy Johnson-I will be a happily married housewife with one adorable daughter. Shella Allen-I will be a happily married housewife. Sandy Vance-I will be playing basketball for the Los Angeles Lakers.

Randy White-I will be married to Beverly Davis and will be the sole owner of all the TG&Y stores in the United States.

Ricky Nicholson-I will make millions tuning the decks in Mrs. Herbert's room to just the right pitch so that aspiring young drummers can have better practice equipment.

Robin Day-I will be head nurse at Northpoint Elementary School.

Steve McCarroll-In ten years I will be president of a worldwide million dollar chain of wine and caviar shops that I will then sell to the United States Navy.

Kim Dyess-I will have been married for at least three years and will have the set of twins that I have always wanted. I will also have been teaching for five years at Northpoint Elementary School.

Wynette Jackson-I will be an overseas flight attendant who is stationed in Miami Beach.

Phillip Bess-I will be 1992's World's Greatest Bodybuilder.

Randy Flowers-By the year 1986, I see myself living in a three story mansion with everything anyone could dream of.

Beverly Davis-I hope to be married to Randy White and living out in the country. Jacob McDonald-My wife, Melissa, and I will have two girls and two boys. By that time I will be an E-9 in the United States Navy.

Kim Dyess-I will have been married for at least three years and will have the set of twins that I have always wanted. I will also have been teaching for five years at Northpoint Elementary School.

Last Will And Testament

John Senn-To those of lesser years, I leave all my good fortunes. To Keith Bell I leave my infallible ability to get into trouble. Last of all I leave all my good memories to the juniors.

Jeff Senn-I, being of ungodly mind and body, do hereby leave my "specc-dazzling" moves that I used in basketball. And I leave him a pair of slightly used Converse.

Tim Williams-I leave my ability to wear cowboy boots and be quiet to the junior class.

Kim Ellis-I leave my ability to do as I want when I want with a teacher's permission to Matt Willoughby who is going to need it.

Judy Helms-I leave to Donna Foley my all dishonorable ability to fall from the top of the "reverse high" pyramid.

Vanessa Kelley-I leave my nickname "Boom-Boom" to Allison Maddox because everyone has dreams.

Jeff Laster-I leave my personality to Patsy Boutwell.

Cindy Baker-I leave my ability to write 95 words a minute to my sister Rhonda who is in desperate need of it.

Steve McCarroll-I leave an ounce of my common sense to Keith Bell and to the junior class. I leave a yearbook editor with a prettier face than mine.

George Millette-I want to leave all my government and economics notes to Jody Carnley.

Wynette Jackson-I leave my cameras to my favorite sister. (She's my only sister.)

Phillip Bess-I leave my flip-flops to J.B.

Eddie Arnold-I will the other half of my room to my schizophrenic brother, Vince and all the kindness I've ever possessed to the ever slow Alvin Moultrie.

Randy Flowers-I leave something else to do.

Land McHaffey-I leave my afternoon bad practice to Keith Bell.

George Millette-I want to leave all my government and economics notes to Jody Carnley.

Wynette Jackson-I leave my cameras to my favorite sister. (She's my only sister.)

Phillip Bess-I leave my flip-flops to J.B.

Eddie Arnold-I will the other half of my room to my schizophrenic brother, Vince and all the kindness I've ever possessed to the ever slow Alvin Moultrie.

Randy Flowers-I leave something else to do.

Dale Barron-I leave to one of the cheerleaders. Jeff Amstrong-To all junior class I leave the Zion Chapel girls (with their permission of course).

Nursery Day Held In Home Ec Dept.

There were many young Rebels-age five and under-in the Zion Chapel school community who eagerly awaited the day when Elba High and her home economics classes held their annual Nursery Day. The "big" day was the culmination of the child care units in each of the classes have been studying.

The day began at 8:00 a.m. with approximately twenty little folks. The first period class presented three skits about nutrition—"Bears," "The Unhappy Alligator," and "The 3 Pigs." This class also helped the children while they played with the many learning activity centers prepared by this year's classes and previous home ec classes.

The second period class supervised art activities that included making play dough objects, puppets, and a collage. After all this "exhausting" it was time for snacks. During third period was a time for more active play. Balls, trucks, and building blocks are examples of the toys they used.

Fourth period class served hot dogs, chips, carrot sticks, cup cakes, and milk for lunch. After lunch, while the children were taking a well deserved rest, this class presented a play they had written—"Seymour Safety Learns About Planet Earth."

The fifth period class took the children outside to the elementary playground for a round of outdoor activities including the games, "Farmer in the Out," "Drop the Handkerchief," and "Red Light."

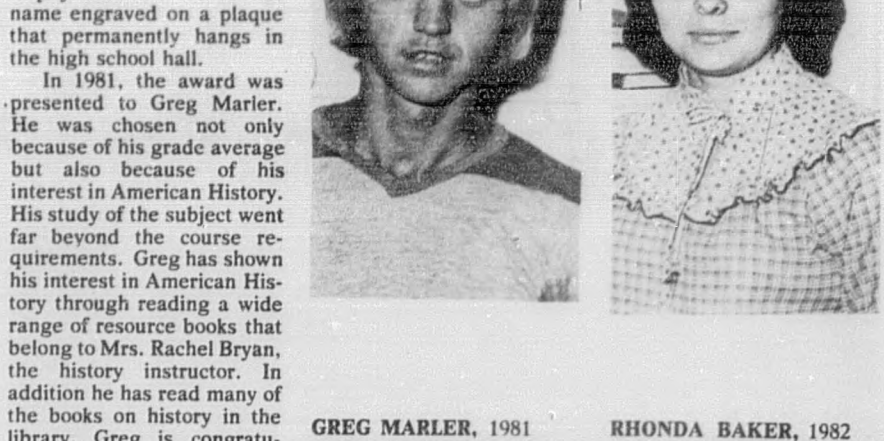

The sixth period class finished up this wonderful day for the children by making and serving homemade ice cream.

Students Win History Awards

Through the efforts of Mr. Samuel Ellison, a Woodman of the World representative, an award for Outstanding Achievement in American History is given each year at Zion Chapel. The winner is presented a trophy and has his or her name engraved on a plaque that permanently hangs in the high school hall.

In 1981, the award was presented to Greg Marler, who was chosen as the history instructor. In addition he has read many of the books on history in the library. Greg is congratulated for his achievement.

The 1982 winner of the History Award is Rhonda Baker who has maintained an average of 99 throughout the year. She has shown a willingness to complete the required work and has worked hard to maintain her high average. Rhonda is also congratulated.

Family Living Class Tours New Hilton Home

As an introduction to a study of housing, the family living class was given a personal tour of the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hilton. Mrs. Hilton is Zion Chapel's home economics instructor.

The class began their study of housing by learning the different house styles across the United States. They were also taught how housing styles from foreign countries have influenced styles here in America. Mr. and Mrs. Hilton built their home in the New England Colonial style.

Another important objective of the housing unit was to stress the importance of learning skills early in life that will enable a person to do certain work themselves when they begin to build their own home.

As the class toured the home, they were told about the various types of furnishings that Mr. and Mrs. Hilton have collected in their years of travel. Most of their furniture, which includes Primitive, Early American, Victorian, and Chippendale, was bought at flea markets and auctions and has been refinished by them. Mr. Hilton also collected many Oriental accessories while he was overseas. The house features old stained glass windows that were found in houses around Norfolk, VA.

When Mrs. Hilton was asked what Primitive style was, she told us that it was furniture that was handmade by early settlers. Even though many people see no beauty in Primitive furniture because of its roughness, it has recently experienced a revival of interest from antique collectors. Southern Primitive is especially popular. The most sought after items are pie safes, tables, and four and meal bins. Because it was handmade this type furniture is rare and is the kind you want to keep in its original form.

To conclude the tour, Mrs. Hilton showed the class her quilt collection and served refreshments. Mrs. Joyce Flowers also accompanied the class on the tour.

Scouts Complete Program

Twenty Elba Cub Scouts completed an intensive three-month program entitled, "God and Family." This program emphasizes the relationship of the boy's family, his country, and his God. It requires a great deal of thought and work.

Dr. Judson Vaughn, pastor of the First Baptist Church, directed the program in coordination with local Cub Scout organization.

The following boys participated in the God and Family program and will be recognized through both the scouting program and their individual churches for their accomplishments: John Jacobs, Buck Simmons, Phil Boggan, Derrick Stinson, Jim Goodson, Will Moore, Todd McCull, Joe Brooks, Tracy King, Joe Johnson, Carlos Magwood, Robin Stinson, Michael Vaughn, Keith Henderson, Derrick Deal, Rusty Bedsole, Kyle DuBose, Tony Allen, Chad Blasi, Barry Bryan.

THE ELBA Rotary Club recently presented two awards to outstanding 4-H'ers. The recipients, shown above, were Sandra Walker, of New Brockton, and Kim Wilson, of Enterprise. Shown with the two is Dr. T. M. Miller, of the Rotary Club. Ms. Walker's project was Foods and Nutrition, and Wilson's project was Poultry. They each received a watch from the Rotary Club.

CANNING TIP

Canning season is here. All vegetables except tomatoes must be processed in a pressure cooker; and here's the reason why -- by

All Around Coffee County

TOM CASADAY

BETTER TOMATOES

For those of you who want to improve your tomato growing techniques, the following will be helpful. A lot of times tomatoes will develop a dark brown grayish watery area on the bottom. This is caused by a shortage of calcium in the tomato. To prevent this, use about a quarter of gypsum (or lanplaster) per 100 feet row. Just sprinkle the lanplaster on top and water it in or wait for a rain to take it in.

In addition, don't let your tomatoes get drought-stressed. If you don't get a good rain at least once a week, go ahead and give your tomatoes a good watering.

Start now and once a week spray your tomatoes with one of the fungicides - Daconil, Zineb, Manco, or Bravo. It only takes a little fungicide to protect from a number of diseases.

FARM THEFTS

A local Coffee County man, Frank Chirico, was appointed recently as the farm-related theft investigator for a ten-county area. Chirico will be headquartered at his home in the Victoria Community. He will be working primarily in cattle theft cases, but as his title implies, he actually will be working on a wide range of thefts.

Chirico will be working for the state, but he emphasized that all thefts should be immediately reported to Sheriff Bruce Paul. Chirico pointed out that already he has learned that a lot of cattle producers don't know how many head of cattle they own. This makes accounting for them difficult. As Sheriff Paul has reminded farmers and livestock producers in the past -- know what you have and keep an eye on them. The sheriff also emphasizes checking on your livestock and equipment in such a way that a prospective thief won't know your daily routine.

WHEAT AND SOYBEANS

Quite a few Coffee County farmers will be planting soybeans and grain sorghum following wheat. Incidentally, it appears that we are going to have a good wheat crop. We will probably have a record acreage planted this year -- several thousand acres. Depending on the weather, soybeans can be planted even in July and do well.

Corn acreage has probably dropped by 25-30 percent. So there will probably be an increased acreage of grain sorghum planted. If soybean prices improve some and get up to $7, I would expect a lot of additional using a pressure canner at 10 pounds pressure, you can obtain a temperature of 240 degrees F., which kills the bacteria that causes botulism; unless they are destroyed by heat, they can grow in the food and produce a deadly poison.

A canner which doesn't operate properly won't be safe for home canning. The canner must reach the right pressure and hold the pressure constant during the processing time to assure a safe canned product.

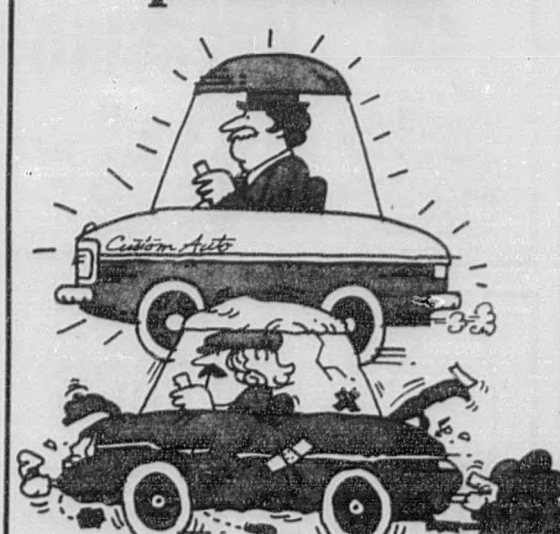

PRESSURE CANNERS

I've had several calls lately from women asking about what type pressure canner to buy -- and you too may have wondered about this. There are two basic types of pressure canners on the market. One has a dial gauge that registers pressure, and the other has a weighted gauge that jiggles when the desired pressure is reached. I like the dial gauge. Each type of canner works well, and it's a matter of personal preference and availability as to which one you should choose.

PLAY IT SAFE

High blood pressure isn't picky -- it can affect anyone. A lot of us mistakenly think that only tense or anxious people have high blood pressure, while relaxed and calm people have low or normal blood pressure. This isn't true -- any one of us can have high blood pressure. May is National High Blood Pressure Month. Let's do ourselves a favor and have our blood pressure checked.

Should all drivers pay the same auto insurance premium?

Of course not. With Commercial Union's Custom Auto Program, some drivers can save up to 20% on their auto insurance.

How? Custom Auto lets you control the cost by controlling the factors which affect the cost of your premium. It's no longer a matter of age, sex and marital status. To find out if you qualify, ask me about Custom Auto today.

Local Girl Scouts Observe 70th Birthday

Seven Troops Help Celebrate

Local Girl Scouts did their part to celebrate the 70th birthday of the Girl Scouts on May 2, with five troops from Elba and two from Zion Chapel participating.

Included in the day's events was a kite-flying contest, with first-, second-, and third-place ribbons being presented to the winners.

At the end of the day the girls formed the Girl Scout friendship ring and sang songs including "Happy Birthday" as 70 balloons were released into the air.

Cardinals fly atop standings

The Cardinals moved into sole possession of first place in the Dixie Youth Baseball League last week by knocking off the previously unbeaten Mets and slipping past the hard-hitting Tigers. Standings thru Monday, May 17, are as follows: Cardinals 4-0; Mets 3-1; Tigers 2-2; Pirates 1-2; Yankees 1-2; and Astros 0-3.

Following are highlights of last week's action:

Cardinals 18

Yankees 4

The Cardinals moved ahead in the third-inning and never looked back to blast the Yankees 18-4. The Cards did lead 1-0 early when Larry Dixon scored, but the Yanks scored twice in the bottom of the first to go ahead 2-1.

Wally Dierks, Dwan Hooks, Jerome Shepard, and Erich Payne got the Yanks off to a shaky start, but the Cardinals committed to play in the Classic, and 1 promise you they'll hit a bunch of homers; but not with the new Dudley ball.

Speaking of homers, according to the scorebooks, there have been a total of 103 homers hit this season by 11 different players in the Dixie Youth Baseball League. The team that has been playing behind the school where there is no fence and also because the league is hitting World Blue Dot Balls, a very good ball. It looks like we've got a pretty powerful league!

The Dixie Youth and Babe Ruth seasons are rolling along and both leagues are proving to be quite interesting. In Dixie Youth, the Cardinals are flying high and appear to be headed for yet another crown, but the most excitement so far has been caused by Troy Sanders, a player for the Cardinals, hit two long home runs last week and now has three homers in only three games. The Dixie Youth record is around 10 (I'll have to check to make sure) and if Sanders can keep it up he could be headed for the record book!

Over in Babe Ruth, the early season standout is John Hudson, a pitcher for the league leading A's. In his opening two appearances, Hudson has pitched 11-innings, allowed 2 hits and struck out 24 batters. Not bad at all.

The Tigers' Bobby Bowen singled and then came around to score on a hit by Troy Sanders in the bottom of the sixth inning to lift his team to a thrilling 10-9 win over the Astros.

Tigers 10

Astros 9

Larry Dixon, Dwan Hooks and Steve Magwood got 2 hits apiece for the Cardinals, while Waters, Keven Barnes and Willie Flowers all added one hit. Getting hits for the Yankees were Derrick Hooks, Jerome Shepard and Caldwell.

Congratulations are in order to the Enterprise State Junior College baseball team for winning the state championship. The Bol Weevils don't get a lot of publicity, but they have a very good club and posted an outstanding 36-8 record this season in a very competitive league. ESJC will now compete in the Southeast Regional tournament with two of the top teams in the nation. Good luck!

There is a lot of fishing going on and I've got a lot of pictures to prove it. But in recent weeks I haven't had a chance to use many of them due to a lack of space. The sports scene is busy this time of year, but as time allows I promise to get 'em all in.

Got to go....

Country Club News

By Greg Brunson

Well, things are finally beginning to pick up at the Elba Country Club, so I should have a little more to write about in the weeks to come.

Our pool opened on Saturday, May 15, with the club putting on a hamburger supper with all members invited. I was playing softball and was unable to attend, but all the reports that I received indicated a large turnout and a merry time by all involved. The two tennis courts are still there. Very few people are playing tennis, but the number should grow as the summer progresses. The fish pond is in good shape, and the stream were bedding last week. We aren't fishing the pond just yet, but there are a number of us waiting for the fish and chomping at the bit to get after them.

The first of our two annual 4-ball tournaments is coming up this weekend, and we have a big time planned. The entry list has been full for about 2 months, and we have a long waiting list. This speaks highly of our course since so many people want to come here and play. There have been some really terrific scores shot at our club in the past few weeks, and we have some real strong teams entered in the tournament. Don't be surprised to see some familiar names when we announce the winners in a couple of weeks.

The Men's Golf Association is also sponsoring a Best Ball by Handicap tournament for club members only on May 29 and 30. Everyone is urged to get a partner and sign up. There is a list on our new board at the first tee, or you can sign up by calling Stan Marsh.

THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1982

NUMBER 50

Sgt. Leon Baxter, of the Houston County Sheriff's Department, picks up a purse in a classroom to allow the department's dog to sniff out any possible drugs.

New Brockton High School Visited By "Nosey Guest"

The New Brockton High School and Coffee County Vocational Center had a special visitor on Thursday, May 20, and though the visitor was an invited guest of school officials, he was an unwelcome guest to some of the students!

The special visitor was Uchi, a four-year-old German Shepherd trained in Oak Ridge, Tenn., to sniff out both marijuana and explosives. This day the dog was given a tour of the school in an effort to find illegal drugs. The dog, valued at $5,000, and owned by the Houston County Sheriff's Dept., makes trips throughout the tri-states area of Alabama, Georgia and Florida, primarily to assist schools in handling possible drug problems. It was his second trip to New Brockton in two years.

"We don't have a drug problem at New Brockton," stated Superintendent of Education John Vaughan. "We simply bring the dog in as an educational tool to let them know what can happen if drugs are brought to school. We think the dog's special abilities act as a deterrent. I want to emphasize that we don't have a drug problem here, and it is partially because of this program. I think all schools should use the dog and use it as a means of prevention. It is not our intent to catch anyone. However, I can assure you that drugs are not tolerated on any of our campuses."

If drugs are found in a car, the owner will be counseled, while if they are found on a student, the Board's policy is for expulsion.

"Sheriff A. B. Clark makes the dog available to all schools," said Coffee County Sheriff Brice Paul. "And school officials bring the dog in to insure a drug problem doesn't occur. The dog will go to one or two schools a week, as requested. We have brought the dog in upon Supt. Vaughan's request the past two years. And, while last year every school was searched, this year only New Brockton was searched, due to scheduling problems."

Last week's search began at 10:00 a.m., and the dog searched the student parking lot, classrooms and places law enforcement officials felt drugs would most likely be hidden. During the search, the dog sniffed out one marijuana joint in the men's bathroom, one containing 1/4-ounce of marijuana in the library, a bag containing 1/2-ounce of marijuana, cigarette papers and a lighter in a paint room in the vocational school, and a bag containing four pills (used as uppers), wrapped in a stretcher in another room in the vocational school.

Supt. Vaughan reported the search served its purpose, and hinted it would be an annual occurrence in the county.

Magwood Death Sentence Is Upheld

An Alabama appellate court has upheld the death sentence of convicted murderer Billy Joe Magwood, and a date for his electrocution is expected to be set within a few days by Circuit Judge Riley Green.

Magwood was found guilty of the murder of Coffee County Sheriff Neil Grantham on June 2, 1981, and the death sentence was recommended by both the jury and the court. The sentence was automatically appealed by state law, and the ruling on the appeal was announced last week.

In announcing its ruling, the court stated that the Supreme Court of Alabama had indicated the standards and procedure it requires the court to follow in reviewing capital murder cases, and that the appellate court had scrutinized the case in light of the standards, and found the crime was properly punishable by death, and that the sentence was appropriate.

Inmate Charged In Robbery

An inmate at the Elba Work Release Center has been charged with third degree burglary in connection with the theft of $500 from the office of Elba Recreation Director Dennis Smith.

Ronnie Baker, age 25, of Bayou

County, was to be paroled on June 4, but is now in the Coffee County Jail awaiting transfer to a state prison. If convicted of the burglary charge, Baker could face life in prison under the habitual offender statute.

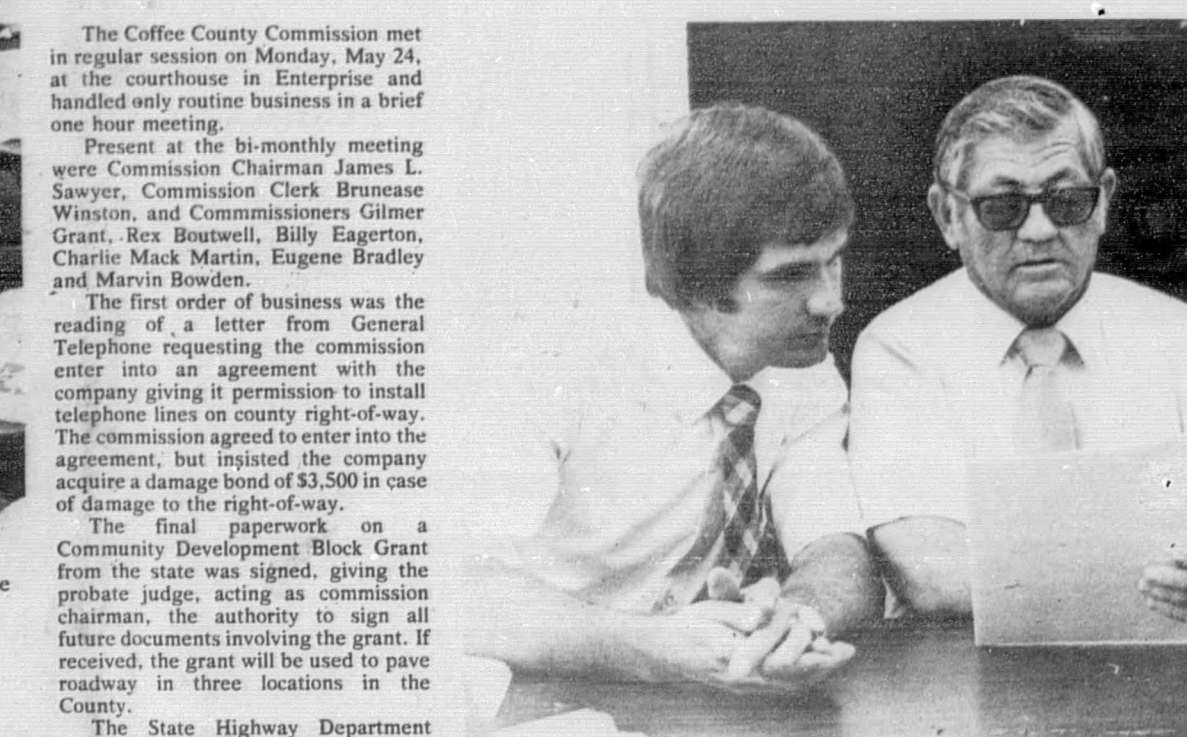

Car Owners Reminded To Buy Tags

Coffee County officials note that there is an unusually large number of citizens who have not purchased their tags this month.

Those persons whose name begins with H or O are urged to purchase their tag in May to avoid paying late penalty.

Elba Police Officer Pete Daugherty, who investigated the crime, reported a warrant was served on Baker on May 21. Baker had been employed with the recreation department as a laborer for six weeks prior to the burglary, and had access to the office. Everyone possessing keys to the office was questioned during the investigation. However, reports of Baker having "more money than usual" made him a prime suspect. The money, all $10 and $20 bills, was stolen during a three-week period, and it was found missing by a concession stand employee.

Commission Sets Up Fund To Cover Expenses

County Commissioners Billy Eagerton and Eugene Bradley examine a document allowing GTE to install telephones on county right-of-way.

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, May 24, at the courthouse in Enterprise and handled only routine business in a brief one hour meeting.

Present at the bi-monthly meeting were Commission Chairman James L. Sawyer, Commission Clerk Brunese Winslow, and Commissioners Glinzer Grant, Rex Boutwell, Billy Eagerton, Charlie Mack Martin, Eugene Bradley and Marvin Bowden.

The first order of business was the reading of a letter from General Telephone requesting the commission enter into an agreement with the company giving it permission to install telephone lines on county right-of-way. The commission agreed to enter into the agreement, but insisted the company acquire a damage bond of $3,500 in case of damage to the right-of-way.

The final paperwork on a Community Development Block Grant from the state was signed, giving the probate judge, acting as commission chairman, the authority to sign all future documents involving the grant. If received, the grant will be used to pave roadway in three locations in the County.

The State Highway Department provided rural transportation for county residents, and, as in the past, the commission passed the fund application to the Human Resource and Development Commission for its consideration.

As requested at the previous meeting, a cost estimate was compiled on repaving Herman Driggers Drive, near Elba. The commission agreed the road is in poor condition and needs immediate work, but after looking at the cost estimate, took no action and ended the discussion.

A county map showing redistricting plans was passed around and it revealed that voters in the Cool Springs and Mt. Pleasant areas would change and be in District 73 for representation in the House of Representatives. The two areas would be the only in Coffee County not included in District 74, now served by Jimmy Holley. The change was included in the state's original reapportionment plan that was rejected by the United States Justice Department. However, since no objections were voiced concerning the change, the new statewide plan will also include the change. The reapportionment program is initiated every ten years to balance population trends and to insure equal representation.

Upon the request of the County Pensions and Security Board, the commission took no action to appoint two new board members to replace two members who recently resigned. The board stated it has five active members and sees no need to fill the vacancies, which are filled by the commission. The members who resigned were Marvin L. Carroll and Johnnie B. Maddox.

A special fund was set up Monday to cover expenditures related to the construction of a new county jail in New Brockton. Though expenditures are now few, the need to cover costs will increase in the future, and the new fund will insure prompt payment. The special fund will repay the General Fund for the expenses. Two expenses were revealed Monday in a bill from the architectural firm of Pearson, Humphries, Jones and Associates, thus initiating the need of the fund. The bill included $2,500 for a jail population survey conducted by Dr. Mike Haley and $325 in legal fees.

In a related jail matter, the commission voted 4-2 to employ an Enterprise firm to conduct a survey of land at the proposed jail site in New Brockton. The National Guard unit in New Brockton had originally agreed to do the survey, but constant delays resulted in delays by the architect, and it was decided the survey must be done as soon as possible. The firm of Smith Surveyors will do the work, and the survey will then be sent to the architect. Voting against the motion to hire a surveyor were Bradley and Bowden.

Billy Devane, acting head of the Highway Department, was at the meeting and got approval to get bids on two two-ton trucks and a large bush hog, and purchase two small bush hogs.

Devane presented the specifications on the trucks, to be used with dump bodies, and the commission agreed to open the bids on June 14. The need for the bush hogs was brought up by the commission, which stated the grass along county roads needs cutting immediately. After a discussion on the county's needs, it was decided to buy two bush hogs and put them to work immediately, and to seek bids on a large bush hog.

Cox Draws Stiff Fine

Sam Cox, the subject of a wild, three-day manhunt earlier this month, was found guilty of three misdemeanor charges last Friday, and sentenced to two years in jail, and ordered to pay a $1500 fine.

Cox was sentenced to six months in jail for attempting to elude a police officer, six months for reckless driving, and one year for leaving the scene of an accident. A fine of $1500 was also tacked onto the sentence. Further felony charges are pending against Cox in the phase that involved state, county and city law enforcement officials on May 8-10.

Holley Proposes Lower Out Of State Hunting Fee

Representative Jimmy Holley reported Wednesday morning of the week that he had successfully engineered a bill that would drop the cost of out-of-state hunting licenses.

Holley noted that during the regular session of the Alabama Legislature a bill was passed raising the cost of an annual hunting license for out-of-state hunters coming into Alabama to a cost of $175. The bill Holley has before the Legislature at this time will drop that back to $99, still a large increase from the cost last hunting season. Florida hunters have been up in arms over the plan, and have been successful in getting the attention of Florida lawmakers and newspaper editorial writers who are tossing around the idea of increasing the license cost for out-of-state fishermen coming into Florida to an equal amount. While this would hurt the Florida tourist trade, it has gotten the attention of Alabama Legislators, and Holley's bill has a good chance of passing.
